Parents Group Award's Governor Brewer Golden Apple Award

PHOENIX, AZ – Today, Arizona Parents for Education President Ann Robinett met with Governor Jan Brewer and presented the Governor with the Golden Apple Award. The Golden Apple Award is given annually to those leaders who through their actions and leadership support choice in public education.

“I am proud to be recognized by Arizona Parents for Education for my commitment to help maintain and improve student achievement by ensuring that families can choose the type of school that works best for their children, including distance learning. Improving student achievement will ultimately help ensure Arizona’s economic growth and competitiveness in the 21st century,” said Governor Brewer.

“Governor Brewer’s commitment to our kids should not be forgotten. Her work has ensured that distance learning will continue to be an option for children all across this great state. On behalf of the 17,000 members of Arizona Parents for Education I say thank you Governor, and please know that your heroic resolve will not be forgotten by our membership,” said Ann Robinett, President of Arizona Parents for Education.

Arizona Parents for Education is a 501c3 organization dedicated to protecting distance learning in public education. For more information please visit us online at www.azparents.org
